

House Kills Veto Pay Increase Bill Is Sent On to Senate

Johnson Expresses Confidence Senate Will Also Override

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House today voted to override President Eisenhower's veto of a 7½ per cent pay increase for 1½ million federal employees.

The vote was 344 to override the veto and 69 against overriding it. This was 68 votes more than the two-thirds majority needed to pass the bill over the President's disapproval.

Eisenhower had previously vetoed 168 bills since taking office and 69 against overriding it.

The House action sent the bill on to the Senate where Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said he would seek a vote as quickly as possible.

Johnson expressed confidence the Senate would also vote to override.

The Democratic leader said he did not see how Eisenhower could condemn the measure so strongly. The President called it indefensible.

Eisenhower vetoed the measure Thursday as "indefensible by any light." He said it would intensify the "conspicuous unfairness and discrimination" he contended already exists in federal pay scales.

He also said that "intensive and unceasing political pressure was exerted flagrantly" on Congress to pass the bill.

At the same time he said he was willing to approve a "modest" increase, and GOP leaders were counting on this to hold enough Republicans in line to sustain the veto. Only one of Eisenhower's vetoes has been overridden since he became President.

But some other Republicans were saying the bill probably would be passed over the veto.

"After all, this is an election year," said one of them, Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Indian Uprising Halted

Striking Indians In Utah Are Routed By Tear Gas

FORT DUCHESNE, Utah (AP)—Indian police, augmented by 18 newly sworn deputies, moved in at sundown Thursday and routed a band of striking Indians with a single tear-gas shell.

Seventeen braves and squaws were arrested and later arraigned on charges of malicious mischief and unauthorized use of tribal and federal property. There were no injuries, although three men had to be forcibly subdued.

The surprise action brought a quick end to a four-day sit-in staged by 30 unarmed Indians in the tribal offices of eastern Utah's Uintah-Ute reservation. The band, calling themselves the "true Utes," quietly took over the headquarters Monday and refused to budge. Regular office workers as quietly decamped.

The "true" Utes' beef was directed mainly at other Indians, members of the reservation's tribal council. They objected to the way tribal funds were being spent, especially money appropriated for scenic, recreational and tourist attractions. They also felt mixed-blood Indians and members of other tribes were outvoting them on policy matters.

When agency Supt. Martin M. Zollar urged them to give up their grievances into a petition, the band's spokesmen replied they had tried petitions before to no avail.

"This ought to give a little prestige to law and order from now

Navy Reports Success In Firing Polaris Deep Underwater

SAN CLEMENTE ISLAND, Calif. (AP)—Another Polaris missile has been successfully fired skyward from deep underwater, the Navy reports.

The Polaris is the fleet ballistic missile the Navy hopes to have operational on atomic submarines by the end of the year. It is designed to be fired by compressed air from underwater—like a torpedo shot straight up—and then take off like a rocket after breaking the surface.

As in the previous test, the intermediate range missile was carrying only a small charge of fuel—enough to send it a few hundred feet into the air. Then it fell back into the water at the Navy's test range at this offshore island, and was recovered.

McLaughlin Retires From Active Duty

Kansas to Replace General as Head Of 35th Division

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Command of the 35th Infantry Division changed hands Thursday for the first time since the Missouri and Kansas National Guard unit was re-organized after World War II.

Stepping down from the top spot is Maj. Gen. John C. McLaughlin, Sedalia furniture dealer, known to the almost 9,000 men of the division as "General Jack."

Stepping into his place is Brig. Gen. Charles H. Browne Jr., Horton, Kan., publisher, who has been assistant division commander after a tour as artillery commander.

Moving up to assistant commander is Col. Russell Boyt, Jefferson City, former commander of the First Battle Group, 140th Infantry of Southeast Missouri.

General Browne will be the first Kansas commander of the division since 1935. The son of the late Brig. Gen. Charles H. Browne, he began his military career in 1936 as a private in the 130th Field Artillery. He served with the division in the European theater in World War II.

General McLaughlin also began his career as an enlisted man, serving first with Battery F, 128th Field Artillery, Sedalia.

As the top man in the division he was not an armchair general. On active duty he spent most of his time in the field with units in training, paying special attention to the training the recruits were getting.

He traveled about 20,000 miles a year on National Guard business during the 13 years he was in command.

General McLaughlin spent almost three years overseas in World War II, taking part in campaigns from North Africa to the Rhineland. At the war's end he was in command of the 17th Field Artillery group. His decorations include the Legion of Merit, Bronze Star, and Croix de Guerre with gold star.

Sedalia Escapes Storm Without Serious Damage

No serious damage was reported after the thunder storm which hit Sedalia about 7:15 p.m. Thursday, but a number of trees, limbs and power lines were reported blown down.

A caller from 1524 South Vermont reported a large tree was blown down and pulled a power line down with it. The line reportedly landed on a metal roof on a garage. No fire resulted.

Water was reported hub-cap deep at the underpass on East Broadway.

Police received a call from 1412 South Sneed at 7:30 p.m. where a tree limb was across a power line. Tree limbs and branches were reported down at 16th and Ohio, 14th and Collins, 1300 South Kentucky, Clinton Road, 10th and Grand and 10th and Thompson.

The police department requests Sedalians not to call in event of a storm, but to tune in the local radio stations which will broadcast the latest weather information in case of a severe storm.

Burdick Elected In N. D.

Says He Is Winner In 2 Campaigns

FARGO, N. D. (AP)—A happy Rep. Quentin N. Burdick (D-ND) today proclaimed himself a winner in two campaigns.

He said results from all but three precincts in Tuesday's special U.S. Senate election in North Dakota, giving him a 953 vote lead, are conclusive. "I'm elected," he said.

And he happily announced in Washington that he plans to marry Jocelyn Birch Peterson in Fargo Thursday.

The 52-year-old Democrat drew standing cheers from his House colleagues when he stepped into the House chamber Thursday. He had flown back to Washington without positive assurance he had won the election over Republican Gov. John E. Davis.

Only precincts left were three in McKenzie County in which Burdick was well ahead. Associated Press tabulations had Burdick carrying 24 counties plus McKenzie while Davis carried 28.

The State Canvassing Board meets in mid-July for an official audit of the returns.

Burdick's wife and Mrs. Peterson's husband, Kenneth, each died in 1958. Burdick has three daughters and a son; Mrs. Peterson has a daughter Leslie, 9, and a son Birch, 5. Mrs. Peterson said they will make their home here.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who campaigned for Davis, said the tightness of the race pointed up his contention that the presidential campaign will be a tough one.

Davis said if official results bear out his defeat he will retire from politics. He was a banker and rancher at McLusky, N. D., and a state senator before being elected to his first term in 1956.

Seizure Is Ordered Of More Refineries

Japan Accuses Soviets

Peace Pact Draws Soviet Objections

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese government strongly endorsed its new military alliance with the United States today in a scorching diplomatic reply to Soviet objections. It accused the Soviet Union of undue interference in Japan's affairs and rejected neutrality in the cold war.

Re-affirming its faith in the U.S.-Japan security treaty despite a month of riotous left wing protests, Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's government told the Soviets:

"In view of the grim realities in the Far East the stationing of U.S. forces (in Japan) is necessary for securing the safety of the nation and contributing to world peace."

Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama called in Soviet Ambassador Nicolai T. Fedorenko to present Japan's one-package reply to Soviet protests of April 22, May 20 and June 15 against the treaty. Fujiyama reportedly told the Cabinet earlier it would be Japan's last word to the Soviets on the matter and that any further protests would be ignored.

Using unusually strong language, the Japanese note charged the Soviets were guilty of "willful misinterpretation" of the treaty, "one-sided and dogmatic views," slander, attempting to weaken Japan's defenses and "distortion of facts."

The note also indirectly accused the Soviet Union of helping instigate the recent riots.

To Name Truman Successor To Demo Convention

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. James T. Blair said today a successor to former President Harry S. Truman on the Missouri delegation to the Democratic National Convention probably will be chosen July 10.

Blair said the selection of Truman's replacement wasn't too important anyway, because the 39-vote Missouri delegation is bound by the unit rule for Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.).

The delegation cannot support any other candidate for the presidential nomination unless Symington himself releases it or the delegation decides it is useless to support him further.

The Missouri delegation will hold a caucus at 4 p.m. Sunday, July 10 in the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles.

Truman has scheduled a press conference in Independence, Mo., Saturday to explain why he suddenly announced he was resigning as a delegate and would not attend the nominating convention.

Psychiatry Inmate Hangs Himself

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—James Richard Espy, 22-year-old inmate in the psychiatry ward of the U. S. Medical Center, hanged himself Thursday night with a towel.

Espy, from Colton, Ore., was last seen alive by a guard at 11 p.m. He was dead on the guard's next round at 11:20.

Espy was convicted in the U. S. District court in Portland for impersonating an army officer. He entered the medical center Jan. 29, 1960.

US Rebels In Oslo

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The hunt is on for two young men who in the past two days changed $100 in 1864 Confederate money in two Oslo shops. They got 700 kroner, nearly $9.

Coal Mine Disaster 'Due to Negligence'

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—A magistrate ruled today the Jan. 21 Coalbrook mine disaster which took 437 lives was "due to negligence."

P. J. Van Heerden found the cave-in was due to "negligence and wrongful acts and omissions of the present consulting engineers, the general managers and managers and assistant managers employed at this colliery." This negligence was attributed to these executives "personally and through their servants and agents."

Says Truman Will Demand His Ouster

Butler Contends He Has Not Rigged The Convention

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Harry S. Truman plans to demand his ouster as Democratic national chairman, says Paul S. Butler, angrily denying he has rigged the party's convention.

"I have not in any way rigged the convention," Butler, tense and emotional, told a news conference Thursday. "And I will not resign in the face of his (Truman's) request."

Pre-convention activity burst into a party-shaking squabble when the ex-President announced he wasn't attending the convention but wouldn't say why until Saturday.

Butler said he had heard that Truman "reportedly is asking for a special meeting of the national committee prior to the convention to request my resignation."

"Truman is reported as feeling I have rigged the convention for John Kennedy," said Butler.

"I request from anyone making the charge a bill of particulars," he added.

Butler termed the convention-rigging reports "nasty, mean and vicious," and called "an absolute falsehood" another report—that he had been offered a post-retirement business connection with an establishment controlled by the Kennedy family.

Noon Prayer Meeting Stopped After 103 Years; Being Used

NEW YORK (AP)—The Fulton Street noon prayer meetings, held in the financial district every business day for 103 years, have ended.

As many as 1,800 persons once flocked to the services when they were held in the Old North Dutch Reformed Church.

But Thursday only 14 persons trudged up the stairs for the final meeting in a dingy loft building. They included a converted Jew, a former Catholic and a Negro deacon.

The Collegiate Reformed Church, the sponsor, said it was halting the meetings because in recent years they had been taken over by "self-perpetuating enthusiasts" and turned into trumpet-style evangelism.

2 US Firms Won't Bow To Orders

Both Companies Refuse Soviet Oil Processing

HAVANA—(AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro today ordered seizure of Esso Standard and Shell Oil installations and refineries in Cuba, unless they refine token shipments of state-owned Russian crude oil.

Both companies already have declined to handle the Russian crude, obtained in a sugar-for-oil barter deal.

Seizure of Esso and Shell would put Cuba's whole petroleum industry, valued at nearly 150 million dollars, in the hands of Castro's revolutionary government.

Two days ago, Castro seized all Texaco Oil Co. property, including its Santiago refinery, in a similar step.

The Cubans announced Thursday they had already begun refining Soviet crude oil at the confiscated, 26-million-dollar Texaco plant in Santiago. Seizure of the refinery had followed company officials' refusal to take delivery on 25,000 barrels of Soviet oil for processing.

Shell has a 42 million dollar investment in Cuba; Esso's is estimated at 60 million and Texaco's at 50 million. The Cuban government owns the three foreign companies an estimated 60 million dollars in exchange for Venezuelan oil they have imported, refined and resold in Cuba.

The American oil companies, in refusing to handle the Soviet crude, said they had to continue using their usual sources of supply, namely Venezuela. Castro claimed he could get the Soviet oil—which he pays for with surplus Cuban sugar—for $1 a barrel less than Venezuela's cost.

Some American experts predicted a shortage of gasoline would result from Cuban seizure of the three refineries, claiming the Soviet Union does not have the tankers to send enough crude oil for Cuba's needs. But Revolution, the semi-official newspaper, said that many firms, including at least one unnamed American company, were negotiating to sell oil to Cuba. The island needs about 60,000 barrels a day.

The advantages of a permanent service with long range plans for activities and projects was discussed by Mrs. Glenna Danforth, president.

Nepalese Fleeing To Southern Border

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—Some Nepalese—today were reported fleeing fearfully to the south from the border area where the Nepal government says Chinese Communist troops killed an army officer last week and kidnapped 17 persons.

Prime Minister B. P. Koirala and Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai had agreed to demilitarize a 12½-mile-wide zone on each side of the border. But Red China earlier this week informed Nepal it had sent troops into the zone because of the rebirth of rebellion in Tibet.

To Host Missionary Couple
The First Methodist Church and Wesley Methodist Church will have the opportunity Sunday to become personally acquainted with the missionary couple which the two churches will be supporting this year in North Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. David W. Butler, Dows, Iowa, who were commissioned as overseas missionaries in January to North Africa ever since, will speak at the morning worship service at Wesley Church at 8:30 a.m., then at the First Church at 9:30 a.m.

The Butlers will sail in September for their assignment either in Algeria or Tunisia where the Methodist Church carries on mission work in homes for children, youths and orphans. Since the recent revolts in Algeria, the need has become much greater for work to care for those children left orphaned by the fighting.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Butler have had missionary experience previously, he having spent three years as a special term missionary to Algiers from 1951 to 1954 following his graduation from Central College at Fayette. Mrs. Butler was a special term missionary to Montevideo, Uruguay, for three years following graduation from Baker University, Baldwin, Kansas, where she taught English at Crandon Institute, a mission school in Montevideo.

Mrs. Butler grew up in Kansas City, where she graduated from North Kansas City High School. She was the former Carol Platt and her parents live in Kansas City. Rev. Butler is a native of Hampton, Iowa. He received his divinity training at Biblical institute, Evanston, Illinois, and was awarded the Bachelor of Divinity degree. He received his Masters' degree from Northwestern University in June. He has served pastorates in Bogard, Mo., and Manhattan, Ill. Rev. and Mrs.

Driving Is Serious Work

In almost any venture, success depends upon the ability to concentrate on the problems inherent in attaining the goal.

Concentration isn't easy to come by—you've got to work at it. That's what teachers have been telling students for generations. You can't work subtractions by submitting to distractions.

This week end we're running smack dab into this matter of concentration as it applies to driving an automobile to the Lake of the Ozarks or some other recreation spot.

Safety specialists keep harping on road hazards, and with good reason when it's evident to most drivers that the split second when you're not looking is too often the fatal moment when an accident occurs.

Since so many accidents happen in "the wink of an eye" this is supporting evidence that concentration on a person's driving is mandatory. When you are behind the wheel, there is no substitute for constant alertness. Safe driving calls for unflagging CONCENTRATION.

And may you be reminded, concentration is work. Perhaps that kind of work doesn't tie in with what the average motorist feels is his entitlement to relaxation. But if you think driving ought to be all fun, that your car is a mobile living room for social chitchat and lots of head turning, or a kind of traveling play pen, then you'd best stay off the highways this week end.

You belong on the highway only if you recognize that driving is a deadly serious business, and remember that death can strike in that fifth of a second when nature makes your eyes blink.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Historic Square To Be Modernized

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON—It isn't Sen. Lyndon Johnson's fault, but some of his fellow Texans aren't building up any goodwill for Texas in the nation's capital. This includes Speaker Sam Rayburn, Lyndon's campaign manager.

Two Texans have just maneuvered to disrupt the colonial architecture of the most historic square in America with a modern new brick and glass clock building, chiefly because one of them wants to walk to work.

The Texan who wants to walk to work is Judge Marvin Jones of Amarillo. Sam Rayburn's brother-in-law, who wants a new Court of Claims building erected in place of the historic Dolly Madison mansion, the Benjamin D. Taylor house, and the old Belasco Theatre on Lafayette Square, diagonally opposite the White House.

The Dolly Madison mansion, where the wife of the fourth president gave some of her gayest parties, is one of the oldest colonial houses in Washington. The Belasco Theatre is being proposed as a small-scale opera house in "the one major capital of the world which has no opera house at all."

However, Judge Jones lives at the University Club, a few blocks away on 16th Street. He testified quite frankly that it was more convenient for him to have his new court building within walking distance. "If we were located at the alternate site, transportation back and forth would be necessary," he said.

The judge can also walk across the square to the Metropolitan Club for lunch, then back to the University Club to play bridge.

Texans Plus a Republican
Another Texan close to Sam Rayburn is Eugene Worley, judge of the Customs and Appeals Court. He too wants to tear down the Dolly Madison mansion et al in favor of a modern court edifice.

These two Texans, who have influence with the Democrats, were joined by Republican Judge I. Jack Martin, also of the customs-patent appeals court. Martin was Senator Taft's assistant, and former White House contact man with Congress; thus has influence with both the White House and congressional Republicans.

So, although every civic-minded organization in the nation's capital went to bat for the preservation of Lafayette Square, these two Texans plus one Taft Republican proceeded to get their way.

At first, however, the White House balked. Conscientious Franklin Floete, head of General Services and in charge of public buildings, testified that he had a better site in southwest Washington. It would save the taxpayers money, help urban development, and was approved by the Fine Arts Commission. Furthermore Floete said the new site would hold three courts instead of two. At the Lafayette Square site there is no room for the U.S. Tax Court which has to move anyway. The two Texas judges aren't interested in it, however. The head of the Tax Court, Judge Edgar Murdock, isn't from Texas, has no political pull.

Guest Editorial

HANNIBAL COURIER POST: Touchy on Gambling. — Few baseball fans, it would seem, recoiled in horror over the news that a star of the game was financially interested in a horse-racing stable. Yet when the baseball brass discovered that Al Kaline was thus involved, their reaction was swift. The Detroit outfielder promptly got out of the racing business. The reasons for this are worth thinking about.

The "sport of kings" is also a sport of racketeers, mobsters and fixers. It attracts crooks as well as honest men. The theory of baseball executives, dating back to the time when Judge Landis became baseball commissioner following the 1919 Black Sox scandal, is that gambling should not touch ball players even remotely.

This attitude may seem extreme, especially if it is carried to the extent of telling players where they can invest their money. It can be argued that investing in race horses would no more corrupt a ball player than investing in stocks — or, for that matter, playing poker. That argument makes considerable sense.

Nevertheless, the public can be glad that baseball officials are touchy about players becoming involved in anything even tenuously connected with professional gambling. The further baseball stays away from any smell of easy money, the better.

Immediately after Floete urged another site, the two Texas judges got panicky. Judge Jones phoned Carl Levin, head of the Citizens Committee to save Lafayette Square, and offered to make a deal.

"You can keep the Belasco Theatre," he proposed, "but let us take the Dolly Madison house and the Benjamin Taylor house."

"The people of Washington aren't interested in a barter deal," Levin replied. "We're interested in preserving the most historic square in America."

At this point the Republican judge, Jack Martin, began pulling wires with old friends in the White House. Suddenly Floete found the ground being cut from under him.

"You'll have to get a lot of support to make my proposal stick," he confided to civic leaders.

They got a lot of support—from 30 top civic organizations. But Judge Martin got more from the White House. Floete, a Republican, was told to reverse himself. Like, he was told, favored the demolition of the historic buildings on Lafayette Square.

Note—When Washington civic leaders tried to testify before Congressman Robert Jones of Alabama, head of the House public works subcommittee, Jones's office said no hearings were scheduled. Suddenly without giving anyone a chance to be heard, Jones OK'd the demolition of Lafayette Square. Sam Rayburn had given him the word.

More Texans
Last week another Texan, Sam Rayburn, pushed a $5,000,000 appropriation through the House to buy up one city block to make room for an expansion of congressional buildings.

Simultaneously the House appropriations committee told the District of Columbia, in effect, to jump in the Potomac when it came to building more badly needed schools. . . . On the same day, Sen. Dennis Chavez of New Mexico put through an appropriation of $40,000 to build a new swimming pool for senators. Chavez is the chairman of the public works committee who is helping his neighbors from Texas to raze the historic buildings on Lafayette Square. . . . On the same day, another Texan, charming Albert Thomas of Houston, knocked $2,800,000 off the cost of building a sewer from the new Dulles airport. At the same time, the same Congressman Thomas was angling with the Interior Department to turn part of Normanstone Park, which is national capital parks land, opposite the British embassy, over to the ladies of Congress and their congressional club. These wives of congressmen would not have to pay for the government land.

Think It Through

By E. F. BUTTON
LAND OF "THE FREE" — Now that the political campaign is warming up in Washington State, the "word" has come from candidates for reelection that eyeglasses are to go back on the "free list."

Spectacles had been removed from the "free list" some years ago in an economy move, but now they are back.

Strange, how the eyesight and health of voters get so bad election years!

Take Social Security. Every Congressional election year since 1935, the health of the voters has got so bad that Uncle had had to think up a lot of new remedies to keep them able to get to the polls!

In non-election years, the public health is so good that Uncle doesn't have to hire extra nurses. I just can't figure why this is so.

But sure as shootin', people get awful sick election years. Regular epidemic!

But it works funny. A while back, in Washington State, the old folks went on a regular binge for free tranquilizers, up to 40,000 $'s a month. The taxpayers let out a howl that they'd move out of the State. So the Well-farers took the pills off the "free list." And what happened? Everybody got so tranquil that the use of the drugs plumb fell to zero, almost.

Washington State is the best place to live if you think yours should be "the land of the free."

However, they do have a heap of sickness there.

Gold was perhaps the first—certainly it was among the first—metals known to man. Vessels made of gold date back some 3,500 years B.C.

Might Get Better---Internationally

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first half of 1960 is over. It was busy. But what does it add up to?

In foreign affairs it is too soon to say whether these past six months added up to an American disaster or just an unpleasant interval.

At home living costs reached an all-time high but there were no sensations as the presidential contest picked up speed.

As the new year began there was renewed hope that — internationally — things might get better.

The United States, Britain, France and Russia were bustling and hustling, getting ready for the summit conference May 16 in Paris.

Before February ended France had joined the atomic club of the other Big Three by having its first atomic explosion.

There was a new twist abroad, one which may set the pattern for more serious events in the future.

Rioting students in Korea forced out high-handed President Syngman Rhee; and in Turkey rioting students forced out the dictatorship of President Adnan Menderes.

Then the egg broke.

The American U2 spy plane was brought down over Russia with an unprecedented roar from Premier Nikita Khrushchev who insulted and belittled President Eisenhower, wrecked the summit conference and canceled Eisenhower's trip to Moscow.

It is too soon to know whether relations have been terribly damaged or just badly bruised.

The cold war resumed frigidly. Khrushchev talked of waiting until Eisenhower's successor is elected to resume trying to do business with the United States.

Meanwhile, Eisenhower, carrying out an Asian trip arranged before the summit crackup, ran headlong into another embarrassment.

The Japanese government, fearing for his safety, yielded to the protests of rioters against both the President's visit to Tokyo and the new American-Japanese defense pact.

It called off Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

Eisenhower came home and, just as he did after the summit collapse, glossed over the unpleasantness and its implications, ignored his critics, and didn't seem to think the view was gloomy.

His critics—particularly among the Democrats and most particularly Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee — gave a darker interpretation.

Fulbright accused the Eisenhower administration of fumbling and bumbling in foreign affairs, and then some.

At home the year began with Vice President Richard M. Nixon seemingly certain of the Republican presidential nomination. Nothing which happened during the first six months of 1960 changed that.

New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had dropped out of the race against him just before the year began and later tried to edge back in by saying he'd accept a draft if the Republicans wanted him.

As the year began, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts announced he wanted the Democratic presidential nomination. But first he had to prove he had some support.

He proved it by campaigning in the primaries and now, just 10 days before the Democratic convention opens in Los Angeles, he's the Democratic front-runner.

The Doctor's Mailbag

Some New Drugs Cause Unpredictable Side-effects

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

"Last August I had a bone infection," writes a correspondent from Iowa, Mo., "and spent 10 weeks in the hospital. The last week there I completely lost my perfect hearing. My doctor thought it was due to some medicine they had given me. He believed my hearing would come back. But it hasn't."

"Will you please explain," the letter concludes, "why this happened and if anything can be done to restore hearing that's been lost by some kind of medicine?"

Dear lady, I'm fearful you'll neither be satisfied nor pleased by my answers to your questions.

While you have not given me sufficient details to be certain of the cause for your sudden loss of hearing, it's more than likely that your doctor's opinion is correct.

Drugs of the streptomycin family, including newly introduced kanamycin, are an occasional threat to the nerves for hearing.

This type of drug-induced (iatrogenic) nerve deafness is unresponsive to all known forms of treatment and rarely gets better by itself.

Now my Missouri correspondent would be less than human if she did not feel that she was perhaps the victim of professional incompetence or neglect. Yet it is most likely that her misfortune was wholly unavoidable. Let me try to explain.

Drug treatment is no exception to the general rule that every advance in human affairs involves risk. Most often these risks can be avoided. Thus, there's no excuse for a patient to suffer major iatrogenic disturbances as a result of poisoning from overdosing.

There's little excuse for the patient to suffer a severe allergic reaction, such as follows injections of protective serum or penicillin, when warning signals and protective measures are available to the considerate and informed physician.

There's even less excuse for the patient to experience a crippling side reaction, due to unpredictable hypersensitivity, when the big blow was preceded by small warning signs that called for discontinuance of the drug before major damage could be inflicted.

Now in the case of streptomycin deafness and a few other drug-induced disabilities of major magnitude, even the most persistent faultfinder can uncover no human error.

Thus, with respect to our correspondent, the first and perhaps the only sign of iatrogenic trouble was the patient's recognition of impaired hearing after weeks of successful use of the drug and its discontinuance.

Similarly there may be no warning signs that precede the destruction of blood cells by chloramphenicol, one of the most useful of the "miracle drugs."

If it offers any consolation to our deafened correspondent or to the bereaved parents of infant victims of chloramphenicol-anemia, I can assure them that their suffering has not been wholly in vain.

In increasing numbers, wary physicians are avoiding use of these potentially dangerous drugs.

Reserving their administration for conditions of grave desperation, they elect to make initial trials with products whose greater safety more than makes up for their lesser efficiency.

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

Shows Leading Cities

CHICAGO (AP) — St. Louis, Wichita and Topeka led the cities in their population groups in traffic safety the first 5 months of this year, the National Safety Council said today.

St. Louis was first in the 750,000 to one million group with 2.3 traffic deaths for each 10,000 registered vehicles.

Wichita headed the 200,000 to 350,000 group with 0.68 deaths and Topeka the 50,000 to 100,000 class with no deaths (figured on the basis of the number of vehicles registered).

Ownership of Stock Is Becoming a Family Affair

By Faye Heale

This was breakdown day on the homefront. The clothes washer came to a grinding halt. The vacuum cleaner wouldn't operate.

Off I went to the local hardware store to see if the vacuum's electrical cord could be rejuvenated. I wanted to be sure to beat the washer repairman back to the front door.

Behind his high counter the hardware man's head was bowed. He was reading. I dangled the cord, rapped on the counter, shrieked for service. Then I noticed what he was reading. It was one of Wall Street's most sophisticated journals, "Barron's Weekly."

"What are your reading that for?" I asked impatiently. This got him. "Why shouldn't I read such a publication?" he wanted to know.

Indeed, why shouldn't he? Wall Street, day by day, is coming closer to Main Street.

Five years ago less than 10 per cent of our nation's families owned publicly traded common stock. Today this figure has risen to over 14 per cent.

Do these people have large dollar holdings of common stock? The answer evidently is no. Nearly one-third claim their holdings are worth less than a thousand dollars, and another one-third say the value of their stocks range from one thousand to five thousand dollars.

At the other extreme, one family in 50 say they have holdings worth $25,000 or more.

These figures are from the University of Michigan's Research Center and the study is unique because it is the first in recent years to compare stock ownership and income on a family-by-family basis, to detail the dollar value of stock holdings the same way.

According to the study, only 6 per cent of families with annual incomes under $5,000 own stock. Their holdings are valued at 10 per cent of the dollar amounts of shares held by all families.

At the other extreme of income level, 55 per cent of families with incomes of over $15,000 own 42 per cent of issues family held.

Sixteen per cent of families in the $5,000-to-$10,000 income bracket own 26 per cent of the issues while among families whose incomes range from $10,000 to $15,000, 35.5 per cent own 22 per cent of the stock.

Among those surveyed, two out of five families own shares in only one company and less than one family in five have spread their holdings among seven or more issues.

One statement of certainty that the study makes is that "stock ownership has spread to broader groups of the population as more and more families are interested in diversifying their financial reserves."

The uncertainty in these figures results from the neglect people show once they own stocks.

Too few of these families operate like my friend at the hardware store and study the market, the issues they hold, and current events in the economy that could have an effect on their stock holdings.

How Kennedy Expects To Win On the First Ballot

By ROBERT E. HENNESSEE
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The primaries and state conventions are over and the Democratic delegates are selected.

Senators Kennedy, Johnson and Symington are now madly adding, subtracting and dividing. Kennedy, the front-runner, is mostly adding.

On the basis of conflicting figures compiled by the three camps, we are able to get a pretty good idea of how the balloting should go when the convention at Los Angeles begins counting.

Kennedy is going to the convention with about 588 rather firm first ballot commitments. This is made up with 217 votes in the East; 230 votes from the Midwest; 77 votes from the West; 34 votes from the border states; 17 votes from the South; and 13 delegates from the District of Columbia, the Canal Zone and the Virgin Islands.

With 588 "in the bag," Kennedy would be 173 votes shy of the 761 needed to win. There are two blocs from which these might be obtained, and on the first ballot. They are:

Six states which now plan to cast their votes for a favorite son on the initial ballot. In these delegations, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, California, Iowa, Kansas and Florida, Kennedy has a minimum of 155 votes which will go to him when released.

A bloc of delegates numbering about 235 who will go to the convention with "open minds," unpromised to any candidate, at least so far as the record is concerned. These 235 are from 26 states, but include only a small number from the South, or "Johnson's territory." Most are from the Midwest and West, including 30 from California and 21 from Pennsylvania.

Though he does not claim it because of a possible let-down if he doesn't make it, Kennedy fully expects to be nominated on the first ballot. His whole effort is now geared to achieving this.

He will try to get the favorite sons, especially in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and California to forego the honor and release their delegations prior to the first ballot.

If he is unable to do this, Kennedy will try to persuade Governors Meyner, Lawrence and Brown to release their delegations at the end of the first roll-call but while the first ballot is still open. This would enable those delegations to switch their votes to other candidates on the basis of personal preference, at least 155 votes of which is for Kennedy.

This would bring Kennedy's vote to 743, or only 18 short of being nominated. He therefore would need only 18 of the bloc of 235 uncommitted delegates to win.

This picture, now fast developing, is what is causing many Democrats to worry that, like the Republicans, they too may not have much of a show to present to the millions and millions watching on television.

House Okays Minimum Wage Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 15-cent increase in the minimum wage and a token extension of coverage have been approved by a conservative-minded House.

The victory of the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition Thursday night apparently fixed the limits for any minimum wage legislation in this session of Congress. Passage came on a 341-72 roll call vote.

By a 211-203 margin the coalition dumped a broader bill backed by liberal Democrats and left Senate liberals facing a dilemma today.

Any attempt to broaden the coverage in the House bill is certain to throw it back into the House Rules Committee where efforts to dislodge it face doubtful success.

Some proponents of a more generous bill expressed hope that the return of Congress after the nominating conventions might help ease that roadblock. But leaders obviously hope to keep that session short.

The Senate is unlikely even to consider the bill until it returns for the post-convention session. The political outlook at that time may help shape its course of action. The Senate Committee has approved a bill similar to that rejected by the House.

The same forces that last year put through the labor control bill were in evidence in the House debate Thursday.

Both Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga.) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.), co-authors of the labor bill, played key roles in the minimum wage fight. Only three Texas Democrats deserted the Southern ranks to vote for the liberal-backed bill introduced by Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.).

On the key roll call vote 90 Democrats and 121 Republicans voted for the scaled-down version sponsored by Reps. A. Paul Kitchin (D-NC) and William H. Ayres (R-Ohio). Voting against it were 176 Democrats and 27 Republicans.

On final passage, 225 Democrats and 116 Republicans voted for it and 40 Democrats and 32 Republicans against it.

The Kitchin-Ayres bill would raise the minimum wage from $1 an hour to $1.15, effective Jan. 1. It would extend coverage to 1,400,000 employees of retail chain organizations operating in at least two states, but would not require overtime pay rates for the newly covered workers.

Roosevelt charged during debate that loopholes in the bill would cut the new coverage well below the estimated figure.

Roosevelt's bill would have boosted the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour in three annual steps and brought in 3,509,000 new workers in retail and service organizations doing at least one million dollars a year business.

'Our Unalienable Rights' Is Topic for Earl Crawford

"Our Unalienable Rights" was the subject of an address by Attorney Earl T. Crawford, Sedalia, Republican candidate for the State Senate, delivered before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The program was arranged as the club's observance of Independence Day. Job Harned introduced the speaker in the absence of Frank Wagner, program chairman.

As an introductory, Mr. Crawford quoted the preamble to the Declaration of Independence as follows:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Continuing, the speaker commented that "in this excerpt from the Preamble to the American Declaration of Independence

Six Reasons Weren't Good Enough; Fell Behind in Payments

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Royce Parks offered a half-dozen reasons why he had fallen behind in $8-a-week support payments for his 8-year-old daughter by a previous marriage:

His daughter, Susan, 7 months, twins Darryl and Darren, 18 months, son Kevin, 2½, son Randy, 4, and son Craig, 5, all by his second wife, Delores, 28.

"Why did you bring all your children?" asked Superior Court Commissioner Raymond Roberts in court Thursday.

"My wife wanted" to come along," said Parks, as Delores rocked a bottle-sucking tot.

"If this was an attempt to get sympathy, it was misdirected," said Roberts.

Despite the house painters' plea that medical bills forced him into arrears on Donna's upkeep, Commissioner Roberts ordered him to spend Saturday and Sunday in jail for skipping the court-ordered support payments.

Hollywood Extras Advised to Strike

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood's extras should vote to strike, their directors say.

The 2,000-plus membership of the Screen Extras Guild votes on the issue July 8. H. O'Neil Shanks, executive secretary of the Guild, urged Thursday night that they vote to strike.

The producers offered a 7½ cent hourly increase to extras, who make $22.05 a day—or $29.04 for those who wear costume. Shanks said the offer "is so far below that given other performers and other employees in the industry it would seem the employers are trying to foment trouble."

at 9 a.m. Saturday at St. Martin's Catholic Church at Martinsville with the Rev. Jerome Jaworski officiating.

Burial will be in the St. Joseph Cemetery in Pilot Grove. The body is at the Hayes-Painter Funeral Chapel in Pilot Grove.

Austin D. Hall Services

Funeral services for Austin D. Hall, who died Tuesday afternoon at the Bothwell Hospital, were held at the Gillespie Funeral Home at 2:30 p.m. Friday with the Rev. Thomas W. Croxton of Jefferson City officiating.

Mrs. Jack Herndon sang "The Lord's Prayer," and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," accompanied by Miss Lillian Fox. Pallbearers were George B. Baker, Albert Lueck, J. W. Twenter, Porter Morton, Irvin Robertson and Harold Greer.

Burial was in the Pisgah Cemetery in Cooper County.

there is set forth in precise and dignified language, the heart and the substance of the philosophy of our American form of government: All men—there are no exceptions—there are no reservations—all men are proclaimed equal and children of the same Divine Creator, the source of all unalienable rights—rights which reside in a person for no other reason than that he is a person.

"There was, as you well know, some difference of opinion in the Congress which adopted the Declaration of Independence about its proper timing, but there was no expressed dissent from the principles which it so clearly and distinctly announced to the whole world. The Preamble was subjected to no attack whatsoever by the members of the Congress. It was the unanimous expression of the then revolutionary philosophy of this new, western democracy.

"Today for us, the Preamble is beyond doubt the most immortal part of the Declaration of Independence. The body of the Declaration set forth a stinging indictment of the management of the colonies by the King, and is interesting now chiefly as a reminder of unhappy events which have little concern with the present. But the Preamble lives on—a concise and apt expression of the underlying foundation of our American Democracy.

"In every generation since the signing of the Declaration of Independence, some men have scoffed at its principles, others have done only lip service to them, and still others have been distressed by the slow and imperfect attainment of them. Also, from the very dawn of history, evil men have sought to take away the rights and liberties of other men. And there is active in the world today, the most potent despotism yet known to men, based on the writing of Karl Marx, whose most dangerous aspect we call communism.

"In our own day, when there are forces loose in the world which magnify the state to the destruction of basic human rights and dignity, do we not need to turn to our oldest charter for light and hope? The great declaration still issues its ringing challenge to the tyrants who would herd-ride mankind, and it still proclaims the undying faith in human beings which has permeated and glorified the history of America."

In the absence of President John Ryan attending the Kiwanis International convention, Past President Sylvan Woolery presided.

Gene Cook, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce membership committee was introduced and he complimented the energetic assistance given on behalf of the club through Chris Rose and George Ray who were signally recognized by being presented with ham and bacon, tickets to dinner and the Starlight theatre.

Singing was led by Abe Rosenthal with Miss Lillian Fox, accompanist. In song the club recognized the birthday anniversary of George H. Scruton.

Invocation was by Job Harned. The Rev. Mark Horn, Sedalia District Superintendent of the Methodist church, was a guest of Sylvan Woolery.

False Fence Long Gone

Stuart Blasts 3 At Forbes To Tie Kiner's Old Record

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

In 51 years, Ralph Kiner was the only Pirate ever to hit three home runs in one game at Pittsburgh's Forbes Field. The right-handed belter was shooting at a short left field fence. Kiner's Korner, they called it.

Thursday night, with the false fence long gone, Dick Stuart became the second Pirate ever to jolt three home runs out of Forbes. The slumping, sometimes sluggish slugger did it in consecutive at-bats, then added a two-run single for seven RBIs as the Bucs beat San Francisco 11-6 and salvaged a split in a two-night doubleheader.

The nightcap victory, after a three-hit pitching performance by Jack Sanford had given the Giants an 11-0 decision in the first game, was the Pirates' first success in six games, but padded their National League lead to three games again.

Second place Milwaukee lost 11-5 at Chicago.

The world champion Los Angeles Dodgers returned to the first division for the first time since May 7, tying idle St. Louis for fourth place with a 10-6 victory at Philadelphia that dropped the Phils back to the bottom.

In the American League, the New York Yankees hit five home runs and defeated Kansas City 10-3 for a 21-8 June record. Baltimore, 1½ games behind, regained second place from Cleveland with a 9-1 victory over the Indians. Chicago's White Sox ended Washington's winning string at five, beating the Senators 4-2 in 10 innings. Boston whipped Detroit 11-7.

Stuart socked his homers off three pitchers. He hit a three-run shot off starting southpaw Mike McCormick in the first inning, a bases-empty home run off right-hander Billy Loes in the third and a winning, solo jolt off losing right hander Stu Miller (2-3) in the fifth.

Dick Stuart's slugging barely over-shadowed Willie Mays' two-game show for the Giants. He homered in each game, smacked two doubles and a triple, drove in five runs and regained the NL lead at .361 with a 6-for-7 night. Willie drove in the Giants' first three runs, two with his 51st homer, in the opener as Bob Friend (9-5) lost his second in a row.

Mays' second game homer, with none on in the eighth, was the only run allowed by lefty rookie Joe Gibbon (4-2). He gave up just six hits, struck out six and didn't walk a man in 7 2/3 innings of relief.

The Cubs escaping the cellar, swung for 18 hits and handed Lew Burdette (8-4) his second straight defeat. Ernie Banks, who hit his 22nd home run, Richie Ashburn and Frank Thomas each drove in three runs. Don Cardwell (4-5) won it.

A three-run triple by Maury Wills did it for the Dodgers as they came from behind with five in the fifth against loser Jim Owens (3-9). Charlie Neal also drove in three, two with a homer. Ed Roebuck (6-1) won his fifth in a row in relief.

Fighter Wants His Chance Only When He's Ready

DETROIT (AP)—Henry Hank is a unique man among prize fighters. He wants a chance at the championship as badly as the next fellow, but he is willing to wait until he deserves a chance.

Hank made no cries of "I want the champ" after a convincing knockout victory Thursday night over Victor Zalazar of Buenos Aires. Hank kayoed the Argentine fighter at 2:11 of the fourth round in a scheduled 10-rounder. It was Hank's fight all the way.

The Detroit fighter, one of the world's top-ranking middleweights, wants to settle a score with Hank Casey before anything else. The unranked Casey won a split decision over Hank last month.

"When I beat him, then I'll start thinking of the bigger fights," said Hank.

A solid win over Casey would throw Hank in line for a bout against either NBA Champion Gene Fullmer or Paul Pender, who is recognized as champion in New York and Massachusetts.

Zalazar spent most of his brief time in the ring retreating, and Hank built up an early lead with overhand rights and digging lefts to the midsection. Hank finally staggered Zalazar early in the fourth round as the two came off the ropes. A series of four rights and lefts to the head finished Zalazar.

Hank weighed 159, Zalazar 160½.

Athletes Compete For Berths On Olympic Team

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—A trip to Rome and the 1960 Olympics are up for grabs today as 221 athletes representing the best in the United States opened competition for berths on the track and field team that will represent America in the games.

Only the top three in each of the 17 events on the two-day program at Stanford win places on the squad with two exceptions. The fourth man in the 100 and 400-meter races qualifies as a member of relay teams.

A decision may come quickly on which three of America's big four in the shot put will survive. Two-time Olympic champion Parry O'Brien, Bill Nieder, Dallas Long and Dave Davis all have consistently thrown further than 60 feet. Nieder has the best toss at 65 feet 7 inches.

Generally considered the four best in the world, they start competing in one of the opening field events.

Doesn't Think Orioles Will Win Pennant, But Says They Can

BALTIMORE (AP)—President-General Manager Lee MacPhail of the Baltimore Orioles tossed a semantic slider when discussing the pennant chances of the surprising 1960 Birds.

"If you ask me if they will win, I must honestly say no," MacPhail said Thursday.

"But if you ask me if they can win, the answer is definitely yes."

"If our young players continue to hold their own, if we get more help from our older players and if the pitching continues to improve, I'd say we have a chance for the pennant."

"In addition, we'd have to get through the season without major injuries because our bench isn't strong enough to overcome them."

Gives Palmer Tips on How To Play Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Jock Hutchison, first American to win the British Open golf title, today gave reigning American champion Arnold Palmer a few expert tips on how to conquer St. Andrews Old Course in next week's 100th playing of the open.

"It would be wonderful if Palmer could add the British crown to his American open and masters triumphs," Hutchison said.

"But I don't think he'll do it. His work around the greens may let him down."

"I've told him he must play his pitches so they bounce only once and then sit down instead of running them up. That way they'll just roll on and on."

Palmer admitted the hazard.

Hutchison, 76, a native of St. Andrews, migrated to the United States in 1904, became an American citizen, returned to his home town to win the British title in 1921 and now is retired in Evanston, Ill.

Still bronzed and fit looking, he is back in his native city to play in the centenary open.

"I've played the old course three times since I got here," he said.

"But it gets longer and longer for me. The other day I went out in the teeth of a gale, played one hole, had a look at the next and decided it was time I took a rest."

Palmer, defending champion, Gary Player of South Africa and Peter Thomson, four-time winner from Australia, are the favorites for next week's championship. Player and Thomson both shot 70s in practice Thursday. Palmer had a 71.

A's Sign New Pitcher

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics signed an 18-year-old pitcher from Lyndhurst, N. J., and assigned him to Albuquerque, N. M., of the Sooner League. He is Joseph R. Tita, 185-pound right-hander who played for Lyndhurst High and Delaware University.

Yanks Bust Loose

Salt Off Orioles; Hot July Needed

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Skinny Brown and Jim Gentile brushed the salt off the Orioles' tail feathers, but it's going to take a hot July for Baltimore to stay close to New York in that American League race after the way the Yankees busted loose in June.

The Orioles, still within 1½ games of the Yanks, grabbed second place back from Cleveland with a 9-1 victory Thursday night. Brown chopped down the Indians with a six-hitter and Gentile walloped two homers for five runs as the Birds ended their losing string at three.

But the Yankees, crashing five home runs, clobbered Kansas City 10-2. Those five homers, two by Bill Skowron, gave the leaders 46 for the month and a season total of 90. Roger Maris crashed his 25th and Mickey Mantle hit his 18th.

Chicago's fourth place White Sox, 4½ games behind, ended Washington's winning streak at five with a 4-2 decision in 10 innings. Boston belted Detroit 11-7.

In the National League, Dick Stuart slugged three home runs as first place Pittsburgh salvaged a split in a two-night pair with San Francisco with an 11-6 victory. The Giants took the first game 11-0 behind Jack Sanford's three-hitter. Second place Milwaukee lost 11-5 at Chicago and fell three games behind the Pirates. The world champion Los Angeles Dodgers crept back into the first division for the first time since May 7, tying idle St. Louis for fourth place by beating Philadelphia 10-6.

While the Yankees were clubbing the A's to a seventh straight defeat, right-hander Ralph Terry (4-3) hung up his first complete game in seven tries since May 18. He allowed seven hits, two of them homers by Andy Carey and Jerry Lumpe, but blanked the A's on two singles over the last six innings. The Yankees, with Tony Kubek hitting the other homer, collected a dozen hits. Bob Trowbridge (1-3) was the loser in relief.

The Orioles, who had lost five in a row at home, got all they needed when Walt Dropo singled home two first-inning runs off losing southpaw Ted Bowsfield (3-4).

Al Smith, who hit a two-run homer in the second inning, doubled and scored the winning run on Joe Ginsberg's double for the White Sox against reliever Tex Clevenger (1-5). Russ Kemmerer (4-4) won it in relief.

Don Buddin eluded catcher Red Wilson in a run-down for the deciding run as Boston scored six in the eighth and defeated Tiger reliever Paul Foytack (1-7). Detroit blew 5-0 and 7-5 leads, getting all the runs on homers—two by Rocky Colavito, who drove in five runs, and the other by Eddie Yost. Ted Williams hit his 55th home run for the Red Sox, his 13th this year. Tom Sturdivant (1-2) was the winner in relief.

Circus of Home Runs, Yanks Repeat Story

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New York drowned the Kansas City Athletics 10-3 in a circus of home runs Thursday.

Bill Skowron hit two. Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle and Tony Kubek each poled one out of the park.

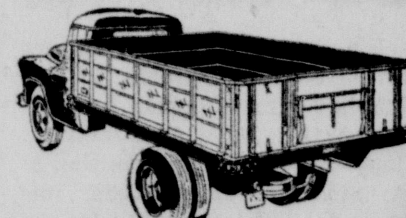

Kansas City had a 3-1 lead going into the third inning with the help of homers by Jerry Lumpe and Andy Carey, both former Yanks.

Ralph Terry pitched seven-hit ball for the Yanks in the 85-degree weather.

Witherspoon Fought Hard For Principle

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

He had a jutting jaw and a large pugnacious nose and he liked nothing better than a good fight in defense of the principles he held most dear.

His name was John Witherspoon, a minister of the Presbyterian Church and the only ordained clergyman to sign the Declaration of Independence.

Over the years Witherspoon's name has become lost amid the glitter of the giants of independence — John Hancock, Benjamin Franklin and the Adamsses, John and Sam.

He doesn't deserve that fate. Witherspoon, with his eloquent dynamic preaching, possibly did more than anyone else to swing the majority of American Presbyterians to the side of the Revolution.

As president of the College of New Jersey (now Princeton) his teaching had a strong influence on James Madison. Nine ex-Princetonians sat in on the drafting of the U.S. Constitution.

Witherspoon became a fighting preacher early in life.

He was arrested a number of times in his native Scotland for his attacks on the so-called moderate wing of Presbyterianism. He considered himself orthodox in an age of religious upheaval.

His theological writings earned him calls to the presidency from Dundee, Scotland; Dublin, Ireland; Rotterdam, Holland; and New Jersey.

He accepted the latter call in 1768 at the age of 42 and "became an American the moment I landed."

Witherspoon laid down his thoughts on civil and religious liberties in a sermon to Princeton students a month and a half before the signing of the Declaration.

"There is not a single instance in history in which civil liberty was lost, and religious liberty preserved entire."

After the Revolution, Witherspoon turned his sharp pen to the task of helping the unstable young union to find its feet—particularly in the sphere of church and state.

Georgia drew one of his finest barbs when it resolved in its constitution that "no clergyman of any denomination shall be a member of the general assembly." Witherspoon suggested this alternative:

"No clergyman of any denomination shall be capable of being elected a member of the Senate or House of Representatives, because there insert the grounds of offensive disqualification, which I have not been able to discover."

"Provided always that if at any time he shall be completely deprived of the clerical character by those whom he was invested with it, as by deposition for cursing and swearing, drunkenness or

Audrey Schalk, James Spieler Wed in Afternoon Ceremony

St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed Church, California, decorated with palms, ferns and candles was the scene of the wedding of Miss Audrey Leah Schalk, Owensville, and James R. Spieler, California. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harry O. Hein and the Rev. H. P. Bauer at half past four o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 11.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Schalk, Owensville, and Spieler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Spieler, California.

Music was furnished by Mrs. H. P. Baur at the organ playing traditional selections and the vocalist was Miss Sandra Morris, Owensville, who sang "Serenade" prior to the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

The candles were lighted by Miss Jacqueline Lane, Owensville, whose street length dress was styled identically to the honor attendant's. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of brown chip pomps.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of silk organza over taffeta reminiscent of 17th century Spanish Court costume. It was designed by Miss Iris Elliot, one of the attendants. The princess line bodice was fashioned with scoop neckline and short shirred sleeves. The neckline was accented with motifs of re-embroidered imported lace that came to a point in the front. The same styling was carried through in the panier-like effect in the skirt which was embroidered with pearls. Her chapel length train fell from above the waistline in a cascade of roses beneath silk organza. A necklace of pearls and tiny earrings, gifts of the groom, complemented her gown. She carried a cascade bouquet of Stephanotis, lilies of the valley and liligustrum foliage, centered with white orchids.

Connie Tappmeyer, Fort Wayne, Ind., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sue Holt, Springfield, and Iris Elliot, Lima, Peru. They wore street length dresses of gold crystaletta taffeta. Their head pieces were bows with small veils covering the face. Each carried a crescent shaped bouquet of brown chip pomps.

The groom's attendants were Duane Sterling of California, best man, and Eldred Proctor and David Philen, California, as groomsmen. Ushers were Norman Friedmeyer and Earl Kenneth Friedmeyer, California, and Ron Badger, Tulsa, Okla.

Miss Charla Gabert, niece of the groom, was flower girl. Her floor length dress was of white silk organza.

Mrs. James R. Spieler

Mrs. Schalk wore a sea green sheath dress with three-quarter sleeve jacket. The groom's mother was attired in a pink sheath of eyelet embroidered silk organza.

Each wore a gardenia corsage. After the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement. The lace covered bride's table was centered with a bowl of seasonal flowers. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with wedding bells and roses. Cake and punch were served by friends of the bride. Mrs. Charles Gabert, California, was in charge of the guest book. Both the bride and groom attended the University of Missouri and will return to Columbia in the Administration. The bride is majoring in physical education and groom is enrolled in the School of Business and Public Administration.

Plymouth—KING OF THE ROAD—Plymouth whipped all comers in its class in the Mobilgas Economy Run. Not once. Not twice. But four years in a row. This baby is put together solid, mister. No shake. No rattle. Dura-Quiet Unibody does the trick. Solid for '60. It rides like a good dream. It looks great. Get with the winner. Get with one whale of an automobile. Get Plymouth today!

Valiant—KING OF THE COMPACTS—Twice Valiant tangled with Falcon and Corvair. Twice Valiant left 'em for the sweepers. Once in the dust of a Florida road test. Again in the Mobilgas Economy Run. Valiant beat the carburetors off them both. Get behind a Valiant wheel. You'll get it all... room, ride, economy, award-winning good looks. Get the King. Get Valiant!

Follow these simple instructions: (1) You and friend wife go see your Plymouth-Valiant dealer. (2) Ask the man, "What two cars can I get for $94.26 a month?" He will answer proudly, "Plymouth and Valiant." This figures. (3) Craftily ask him how much less you can get them for. (4) Grin, at his money-saving answer. (5) Drive home side by side. You in yours, she in hers. Bank account? Barely disturbed.

TWO CARS $94.26

Based on a combined suggested retail price of a Plymouth Savoy 2-door, 6-cylinder sedan and a Valiant V-100, 4-door sedan with one-third down on the total and 36 monthly payments at 6% interest. ONLY WANT ONE? Think a bit. If two new cars cost you a reasonable $94.26 a month think of all the lovely money you can save and the meager monthly payment for one. Plymouth? Valiant? Take your choice. The savings are scandalous. It's the best deal since the Louisiana Purchase.

GOP Revolt Seen in House

Senate Votes Adjourn

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the face of a House Republican revolt, the Senate voted 63-26 Thursday to adjourn Saturday and come back to work Aug. 8, after the national party conventions.

The House will vote, probably Saturday, and Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) predicted "we're going to recess" despite a decision by heavily outnumbered House Republicans to fight. There was some talk that the House might favor returning to work Aug. 15. Both House and Senate must approve any extended adjournment or recess.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas pressed for a Senate vote only a few hours after 125 House Republicans had thrown down the challenge at a caucus.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois joined Johnson in sponsoring the adjournment resolution.

On the test, 53 Democrats and 10

Republicans voted for the five-week adjournment. Twenty Republicans and 6 Democrats opposed it.

In a free-wheeling speech ahead of the vote, Johnson struck back at charges by GOP National Chairman Thruston B. Morton and other Republicans that the Democratic-run Congress has dilly-dallied.

Only a "phony or a hypocrite" would pretend there was any chance to complete Congress' work before the conventions, Johnson told Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.), who demanded that Congress try.

In scornful tones, Johnson dismissed Morton's suggestion that the adjournment is part of a deal for a Democrat ticket of Johnson and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts. Both Johnson and Kennedy are candidates for their party's nomination, with Kennedy rated ahead.

And the Texas senator gave the back of his hand to a statement by Rep. Thomas M. Pelly (R-Wash.) that the adjournment plan is a last desperate maneuver by Johnson and Rayburn, Johnson's chief backer.

Pelly contended the move was intended to win time "to hold certain bills over the heads of key Democrats who can deliver convention delegates" to Johnson.

Kennedy was one of the Democrats who voted for the temporary adjournment.

Unless there are wholesale Democratic defections, Rayburn should have little trouble overwhelming the Republicans. The current House lineup finds 280 Democrats and 152 Republicans, with five vacancies.

House members have a greater stake than most senators in ending the current congressional session soon so they can get home to campaign. All representatives are subject to re-election this fall, while only one-third of the Senate must face the voters.

"Anyone who thinks we can finish up the business now before the House and Senate by the middle of next week is a legislative idiot," Rayburn declared.

TRANSFERRED — Maj. Gen. John C. McLaughlin, commander of the 35th Infantry Division, Missouri - Kansas Army National Guard, was transferred to reserve status Wednesday, June 29, after 36 years of National Guard and Active Army Service. A full story on the General's military career will appear in Sunday's Democrat-Capital.

McLaughlin Retires From Active Duty

Kansan to Replace General as Head of 35th Division

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Command of the 35th Infantry Division changed hands Thursday for the first time since the Missouri and Kansas National Guard unit was re-organized after World War II.

Stepping down from the top spot is Maj. Gen. John C. McLaughlin, Sedalia furniture dealer, known to the almost 9,000 men of the division as "General Jack."

Stepping into his place is Brig. Gen. Charles H. Browne Jr., Horton, Kan., publisher, who has been assistant division commander after a tour as artillery commander.

Moving up to assistant commander is Col. Russell Boyd, Jefferson City, former commander of the First Battle Group, 140th Infantry of Southeast Missouri.

General Browne will be the first Kansan commander the division since 1935. The son of the late Brig. Gen. Charles H. Browne, he began his military career in 1936 as a private in the 130th Field Artillery. He served with the division in the European theater in World War II.

General McLaughlin also began his career as an enlisted man, serving first with Battery F, 128th Field Artillery, Sedalia.

As the top man in the division he was not an armchair general. On active duty he spent most of his time in the field with units in training, paying special attention to the training the recruits were getting.

He traveled about 20,000 miles a year on National Guard business during the 13 years he was in command.

General McLaughlin spent almost three years overseas in World War II, taking part in campaigns from North Africa to the Rhineland. At the war's end he was in command of the 17th Field Artillery group. His decorations include the Legion of Merit, Bronze Star, and Croix de Guerre with gold star.

Confiscated Refinery Begins Processing Soviet Crude Oil

2 More Oil Firms, Utility Companies Probably Next

HAVANA (AP)—The confiscated Texaco Oil Co. refinery in Santiago began processing Soviet crude oil Thursday. The semi-official newspaper Revolucion hailed the action as a sign the 25-million-dollar plant is no longer foreign-owned.

Probable next targets of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's campaign against the United States and "foreign monopolies" are the 26-million-dollar British-Dutch Shell Oil Co. refinery; Esso Standard of New Jersey refinery; the Cuban Electric Co., the largest remaining American investment in Cuba, and the 125-million-dollar Cuban Telephone Co. in which the U.S. International Telephone & Telegraph Co. owns 65 per cent of the stock. Castro officials have been in charge of Cuban Telephone since March 1959, but have not officially taken over.

Executives of Esso and Shell, who followed Texaco's example in refusing to refine Soviet crude, said it appeared a matter of days—perhaps hours—before their plants also would be seized by the Cuban Petroleum Institute.

Technically, the Cuban government "intervened" the Texaco properties for refusal to refine "state-owned oil." The government-controlled press made it clear intervention in this case meant confiscation.

Shell's parent holding company, Shell Oil of Canada, announced that a shipment of crude oil to Cuba had been suspended for non-payment and that Shell executives here had been ordered not to touch the Soviet oil Cuba obtained in a sugar-for-oil exchange.

The Canadian firm said the Cuban government has not paid Shell for oil imports since May of last year and owes more than 17 million dollars. Esso Standard said it has an even larger backlog of payment claims for oil already processed and sold in Cuba.

Wednesday night's ouster, after a 13-hour Cabinet session, of Communication Minister Enrique Otulski Ozacki and his replacement by a little-known but fiery revolutionist, Raul Curbelo Morales, appeared to signal a move against the 300-million-dollar Cuban Electric Co.

Otulski had threatened Cuban Electric with intervention for failure to complete an expansion program. Company officials said the program had been curbed by a forced rate cut and poor collections from government agencies and communities served by the firm, a subsidiary of the American Foreign Power Co. Sources here said the regime felt Otulski was not aggressive enough with Cuban Electric.

Cuban Electric, which furnishes 90 per cent of Cuba with electric power, recently defaulted on an 18-million-dollar loan from the U.S. Import-Export Bank. Company officials said this was because the Cuban National Bank refused to release foreign exchange to pay $600,000 on the loan and $500,000 in interest due earlier this month. The firm began operations here in 1928. It has 8,500 employees.

House Okays Sugar Quota Cuts by Ike

Approval Follows Angry Denunciation Of Fidel Castro

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House, heeding administration pleas for fast action, Thursday night voted the President authority to slash Cuba's sugar quotas.

The action sent to the Senate a bill extending the sugar act for one year—to Dec. 31, 1961.

The House vote followed angry denunciation of Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro—including a demand by one member that if necessary the United States occupy the Caribbean island.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D-S.C.) also called for immediate retaliation for Cuban seizures of American holdings.

"We should impose immediate strong sanctions on Castro," Rivers shouted.

The Eisenhower administration asked authority to establish the Cuban sugar quota for the balance of 1960 and for 1961 at such levels as the President finds to be in the national interest.

At present, the United States is buying about 3½ million tons of sugar a year from Cuba, one of the world's major producers. This is more than half the Cuban crop.

To protect domestic producers this country is paying Cuba a premium of about two cents a pound above the world market price.

This U.S. subsidy is worth about 150 million dollars yearly to Cuba.

Rep. J. Vaughan Gary (D-Va.) complained bitterly that the Soviet Union is paying less for Cuban sugar than this country. He urged that this be corrected, declaring: "I for one am not willing to pay more than the Russians are paying."

Rep. Charles B. Hoenes (R-Iowa) said unless Congress completes action on the bill before recessing this weekend, it "will be meaningless."

Failure to act, he asserted, could open the way for Castro to flood United States markets with 875,000 tons of sugar within weeks. Rep. Hammer Budge (R-Idaho) said that under "a curious quirk" in present law Castro would be awarded an additional quota of 156,000 tons if Congress doesn't act before the recess.

That would occur under a deficit quota that would go to Cuba because growers in the continental United States and in Hawaii and Puerto Rico have not filled their quotas.

House Okays $1.15 Minimum Wage Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Thursday passed a scaled-down minimum wage increase backed by Republicans and Southern Democrats.

The roll call vote sending the bill to the Senate was 341-72.

The coalition substituted its own bill for a broader one backed by the Democratic leadership. It cut the proposed wage floor from $1.25 an hour to $1.15, and eliminated overtime for newly covered workers.

The outcome was foreshadowed by a 197-147 standing vote.

The bill would raise the present $1 an hour to $1.15 and extend coverage to an estimated total of 1,400,000 workers in chain retail organizations operating in two or more states. It was introduced by Rep. A. Paul Kitchin (D-NC) and Rep. William H. Ayres (R-Ohio).

Hits at Lobbying

Ike Vetoes Pay Hike For Federal Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday denounced and vetoed a bill to raise the pay of 1½ million government workers a total of 764 million dollars a year.

His veto message, unusual for its sharp language, struck at "shocking, deplorable" lobbying activities he ascribed to some postal workers.

"I am informed," he said, "that the enactment was attended by intensive and unbecomingly political pressure exerted flagrantly and in concert on members of Congress by a number of postal field service employees, particularly their leadership."

"Were the pressure tactics surrounding the passage of this bill, and apparently further intended in the event of its veto, widely known to the American people, their indignation and outrage in all its power would be quickly felt—and rightly so," he added.

The House will vote Friday on whether to pass the bill over Eisenhower's veto. The bill originally passed the House 377-40 and the Senate 62-17, margins far more than the two-thirds that would be needed to enact the bill despite the veto.

However, a House Republican spokesman expressed belief the veto would be upheld, through a switch of Republican votes to Eisenhower's side. If the House should vote to sustain the veto, the Senate would not vote on it.

Eisenhower has been overriden on only one veto.

Under the bill Eisenhower has now vetoed, pay raises approximating 7½ per cent would go into effect July 1 for 535,000 postal workers, 980,000 classified Civil Service employees, 8,000 foreign service employees, 19,000 officers and employees of the Veterans Administration, 15,000 agriculture stabilization and conservation county committee employees, 5,000 judiciary branch workers, and 7,500 congressional employees.

Eisenhower had two main objections to the pay boost in addition to the lobbying complaint.

"It is not presently required," he said. He would be willing "to approve a modest increase reasonably commensurate with the percentage rise in the consumers' price index since the last general pay increase became effective," he added.

"This hastily drawn bill violates every concept of fairness, every rule of reason and logic. Were this measure to become law, the already conspicuous unfairness and discrimination in our antiquated federal pay system would be greatly intensified," Eisenhower said.

The "pressure" charge was flung back at Eisenhower by J. Cline House, president of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks.

"Shameful pressures have been brought to bear on the administration in an effort to rob federal workers of a moderate bread-and-butter pay raise," House said.

"This latest effort to thwart the will of Congress and the people, and to keep federal wages well below the levels of private enterprise, can only be regarded as a shocking abuse of the executive powers."

Gov. Blair was accompanied by Brig. Gen. Ross C. Garlick, assistant Adjutant General of Missouri (Air), on the trip to the Governors conference.

At Whiteman Brig. Gen. R. H. Strauss, commander of the 17th Air Division, and Col. George Newton, commander of the 340th Bomb Wing, greeted the governors and their party.

Gov. Edmondson was accompanied by Mrs. Edmondson and several aides, and they, with Gov. Blair and Brig. Gen. Garlick, were guests at dinner at the Officers Club of Gen. Strauss and Col. Newton.

Following dinner Gov. Blair was driven to Jefferson City, while Gov. Edmondson, Mrs. Edmondson and party flew on to Oklahoma City.

Gov. Blair had no comment on the recent telegram received from former President Harry S. Truman announcing his withdrawal from the Missouri Democratic delegation to the National Convention. "I have no idea what his reason is," Gov. Blair said.

12-Year-Old Sedalia Boy Reported Missing

Republic Of Congo Inaugurated

Premier Delivers A Parting Shot At Former Rulers

LEOPOLDVILLE, Republic of Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba Thursday accused the Belgians of inflicting "atrocious sufferings" on the Congolese people in their 80 years of rule over this African land.

He delivered this parting shot at his former colonial masters as they turned over the country to its new native leaders.

"We have known ironies and insults, the blows to which we have had to submit morning, noon and night because we are Negroes," Lumumba said at independence ceremonies attended by his parliamentary colleagues, assembled dignitaries of the church and diplomatic corps, and King Baudouin of Belgium.

Lumumba's words provided the only acid in the otherwise friendly speechmaking that inaugurated the new republic.

A few hours later Lumumba, a former postal clerk once jailed by the Belgians on charges of inciting a nationalist riot, almost reversed himself. He expressed his government's thanks to Baudouin and "the noble Belgian people" for their decision to free the Congo.

He paid the tribute during an exchange of toasts with Baudouin outside the still-unfinished parliament building and asked for "long and durable collaboration" with Belgium.

The indignant and startled reaction among Belgian officials to his morning speech may have had something to do with his milder performance in the afternoon.

Said one Belgian official who has spent most of his life in the Congo: "Lumumba might have spared us this indignity. Surely we did not deserve such gross insults."

The original program had not provided for a speech by Lumumba. But the tall, goateed nationalist apparently asked for a place on the program. He busily wrote out his speech while President Joseph Kasavubu addressed the Assembly.

Sedalia Escapes Storm Without Serious Damage

No serious damage was reported after the thunder storm which hit Sedalia about 7:15 p.m. Thursday, but a number of trees, limbs and power lines were reported blown down.

A caller from 1524 South Vermont reported a large tree was blown down and pulled a power line down with it. The line reportedly landed on a metal roof on a garage. No fire resulted.

Water was reported hub-cap deep at the underpass on East Broadway.

Police received a call from 1412 South Sneed at 7:30 p.m. where a tree limb was across a power line. Tree limbs and branches were reported down at 16th and Ohio, 14th and Collins, 1300 South Kentucky, Clinton Road, 10th and Grand and 10th and Thompson.

The police department requests Sedalians not to call in event of a storm, but to tune in the local radio stations which will broadcast the latest weather information in case of a severe storm.

Three Precincts Still Out

Burdick Apparently South Dakota Choice

FARGO, N. D. (AP)—Freshman Rep. Quentin N. Burdick, a Democratic trailblazer in farmbelt North Dakota, Thursday apparently won the special North Dakota Senate race in a dramatic finish.

Returns from all but three of the historically Republican state's 2,313 precincts showed this unofficial tally in his race with GOP Gov. John Davis:

Burdick—104,375.

Davis—103,422.

But Davis refused to make any concession, and the tightness of Burdick's margin—less than 1,000 votes—indicated no final verdict could be made until the State Canvassing Board runs an official count. This must be within 20 days.

Late returns from the farm and ranch country, wellspring of Burdick's strength, buoyed the Fargo lawyer as the counting went down to the final precincts.

The remaining three precincts are in rural McKenzie County in the West River area and the auditor said they should arrive by mail Friday.

It was a spectacularly close race in which Davis, 46, rolled into a 8,000-vote lead in the early city tabulation and then lost it bit by bit in the face of Burdick's stubborn strength in the country. Burdick, 52, caught up late Wednesday, nearly 24 hours after the voting ended, and held on once he got in front.

Strategists in both parties agreed in advance the North Dakota race might be a portent of Midwestern political sentiment in this presidential election year.

Burdick, a tall, muscular figure who carried the legacy of a famous North Dakota political name only two years ago became the first Democrat elected to the House from North Dakota.

Only four times before has a Democrat been sent to the Senate in 71 years of North Dakota statehood. Three were appointed or named by the Legislature. John Moses won in 1944 with a powerful assist from Republicans who defected from the Nonpartisan League.

The current election was held to fill the remaining 4½ years of the late Sen. William Langer's term. Burdick's apparent victory was achieved in spite of a powerful GOP national effort to help his opponent, the war hero governor.

Two of the party's most glamorous names, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, campaigned for two days for Davis. Burdick had high-velocity help himself. Sens. John F. Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson and Stuart Symington, all presidential prospects for the Democrats, made appearances in the state.

Swivel Hips Matures

Elvis Becomes Philosophical, Expounds Weighty Topics

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It may come as a shock to the milk set, but the Army made a philosopher out of Elvis Presley. Elvis, in a word, has matured. Where two years ago he talked solely about women, now he talks about them only half the time.

Such weighty topics as World War III, the recent collapse of the summit conference, religion, and drama lessons all are expounded by Mr. Swivel Hips.

On war, the ex-GI comments: "There won't be any. Nobody, not even the Russians, could be that stupid. I know the Bible says the end of the world will come by fire and brimstone, but I don't think anyone wants to push that button first."

Listening in rapt silence are his usual assortment of buddies — high school chums from Memphis, new friends from the Army. As Hollywood entourages go, this one is more commendable than most.

of tulle formed the wide V neckline which was highlighted with sequins and pearls. The bouffant skirt was gathered at the elongated waistline and lengthened into a wide chapel train. The bridal headpiece was an imported French coronet of lace outlined with pearls and held her fingertip illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Jerry Arnold, Republic, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a white lace over blue taffeta ballerina length dress with a blue taffeta cummerbund which formed into a wide bustle-bow. She carried a crescent bouquet of pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. Richard Jakubiak, Whiteman AF Base, was best man with Mr. Sphinx R. Swairngen, Whiteman AF Base, and Mr. Patrick J. Whalen, Whiteman AF Base, ushers.

The bride's grandmother wore a rose colored dress with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The groom's mother chose a blue sheath dress with blue accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held at half past one o'clock at the home of the bride's grandmother. The home was decorated with bouquets of pink and white roses. The bride's table was covered with a white lace tablecloth and centered with a wedding cake decorated with pink roses and silver leaves, topped with white lovebirds under an arch of white flowers.

Miss Ruth Ann Bahner, 1611 West 16th, and Miss Barbara Mayfield, 1101 West Third, served. After the reception the couple left for the Lake of the Ozarks. The bride chose a white sheath dress embroidered with blue flowers for her going away dress. She wore a corsage of white roses and stephanotis.

The couple will reside at 1319 South Kentucky.

The bride graduated from Sacred Heart High School with the class of 1958 and is presently employed at Lamy's Manufacturing Company.

The groom is a graduate of Gwynn Park High School and is presently stationed at Whiteman AF Base.

It shows that Elvis has remained loyal to the friends of his hungrier days.

"One thing that I have learned," says the 25-year-old king of rock 'n' roll, "is that you can't please everybody. It took me a long time to learn it, but I know it now."

That was the first evidence of the new maturity of Elvis.

"When I had my hair long with those sideburns you could tie under your chin, everybody said: 'Why don't you cut that hair?'"

"So I go to the Army and cut my hair. Now the same ones said: 'Why did you cut your hair?'"

"The same with my singing. When I move with the music, they say I cause juvenile delinquency. When I stand still—like I did on the last television show—some-one wrote: '$125,000 worth of nothing.' This used to worry me. It doesn't anymore."

Then Elvis becomes more serious, even reverent.

"Look at Jesus Christ. He came on earth doing nothing but good and was crucified."

Two shapely starlets walk by the door of his dressing room. Elvis glances at them but goes on talking — now about Nikita Khrushchev.

"He's a bully. No different than a common street bully. As long as you act scared in front of him, he'll keep smacking you. The minute you stand up and fight him, he'll back away from you just like any other bully. They're all basically cowards."

Elvis plans to confine himself pretty much to movies, records and concerts. He's going to concentrate on his acting—but no drama schools.

The bride graduated from the Otterville High School with the class of 1960.

The groom attended Smith-Cotton High School and is employed by Union Construction Company.

Centennial and State Fair Plans Discussed at Meeting

A meeting of the retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce was held at 10 a.m. Friday in the Chamber office at which time plans for two coming events were discussed.

The Fair will be held Aug. 20 to 28, and it was voted by the group that each merchant tie the idea of various things at the Fair into the decorations of their windows. A plaque would be given by the Fair for the best window.

This plaque with the name of the winning store engraved on it would be kept a year. The next year it would go to that year's winner with the name of that store engraved on it.

Self-Preservation Instinct Is Reason Why Men Marry

Hal Boyle wondered aloud this week why women marry, considering what it does to them. Today his wife takes up the question of what happens to husbands after marriage.

By FRANCES BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — There is no doubt about why most men marry. They simply want to live longer.

A man doesn't marry as the result of an overwhelming emotion. He marries because of an overwhelming instinct—the instinct of self-preservation.

He likes to think he is doing a girl a favor by putting a wedding ring on her finger. Actually he is doing himself a favor. That ring is shaped like a life-saver. And that's what matrimony is to most men—a life-saver.

All statistics show that the best life insurance a man can get to add years to his zest—if not zest to his years—is the right kind of wife.

Married men do last longer than bachelors. They may complain they are working themselves to death, but their bachelor buddies play themselves to death much sooner.

Of course matrimony does do some unforgivable things to husbands. In time their teeth get fewer, their hair falls out, and their stomach looks like a basketball they can't quite catch up with. But it has its compensations, too.

Before marriage the only exercise a man gets is paying his bills. After marriage he gets twice as much of this kind of exercise.

Brains May Cause Woes Of Obesity

By JOHN BARBOUR

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Night eaters and binge eaters may be driven to obesity not by their stomachs — but by their brains and emotions, a researcher reported today.

The night eater is the fellow who rarely eats a meal before noon — begins in earnest at the evening meal and continues eating into the night.

He rarely speaks of being hungry — he just finds himself nibbling and he can't stop. Dr. Albert J. Stunkard of the University of Pennsylvania told a meeting of the American Medical Assn. The night eater's trouble is that he can't satisfy himself—not that he has such a tremendous hunger drive.

On the other side of the fence is the binge eater—a fellow with a great compulsion to eat and overeat. He consumes great amounts of food in relatively short periods of time.

His eating habits exhibit great hunger drives but he does seem to become satisfied or oversatisfied.

The difference between the two may lie deep in the control center of the brain—the hypothalamus.

Perhaps one area of the hypothalamus controls satiety—or satisfaction — tells you when you've had enough. Another area may determine the real urge of hunger.

Before marriage he is so lonely he talks to himself. After marriage he doesn't have to talk at all; he can improve his mind by just listening.

Before marriage he is simply one of the boys. After marriage he is much more of a man—usually from 30 to 40 pounds more.

Before marriage he lives from hand to mouth. After marriage he always knows where his next meal is coming from—whether he likes it or not.

Before marriage he gets weary of telling his own jokes. After marriage he has someone to share this misery.

Before marriage he never knew what worried him. After marriage no longer has this gnawing doubt. He is sure.

Before marriage he never knew why he was always broke the day after pay day. After marriage he can think of a hundred reasons.

Before marriage he didn't know enough to come in out of the rain. After marriage he isn't allowed to go out into the rain—unless he puts on his rubbers and carries an umbrella.

Considering all these advantages, it's a wonder why so many single men today still say they don't want to marry. It must be because they listen at bars to the made-up woes of wayward husbands.

The truth is that the younger a man marries the longer he is likelier to live. Or, as even a grouchy husband admits, "At least it seems longer."

WAFB Payroll $9,000,000; Annual Growth Continues

With a total combined military and civilian payroll of more than nine million dollars annually, Whiteman Air Force Base has an important economic and social impact on its neighboring communities.

Whiteman became a community in its own right in 1951 when the former Sedalia Air Base was reactivated. Since that time it has grown along with its neighbors and has contributed to their growth.

For example, approximately 2,350 Whiteman families reside in nearby towns where they pay rent, utilities and, in the case of those who are homeowners, taxes. They also spend large amounts for groceries, clothing and other necessities. In some cases it's impossible to estimate the amounts involved, but here are some other facts and figures which have been supplied by the base comptroller:

In addition to the married personnel, some 2,000 single men living on base represent a powerful spending force in off-base communities.

Whiteman's military payroll is estimated at $8,500,000 yearly. The annual civilian payroll is approximately $1,185,000. This is money paid directly to citizens of surrounding communities.

Many Whiteman supplies are purchased locally through merchants in this area. This "local purchase" runs to about $1,125,000 a year.

Large sums are spent in surrounding communities for laundry, dry-cleaning, janitorial services, and maintenance of all types from local contractors.

Yearly purchases of bread and milks from local contractors alone amount to about $145,000.

And Whitemanites have their dollar investment in the future of the country. An estimated quarter million dollars in Federal Income Tax is paid each year by base personnel.

Mrs. James Byron Noel

Miss Janet Lea Vedder Becomes Bride Of Mr. James Byron Noel

Four candelabra holding lighted white tapers and draped with smilax in a background of palms and arrangements of white gladioli with white and yellow majestica daisies set the scene for Miss Janet Lea Vedder to become the bride of Mr. James Byron Noel Sunday afternoon, June 12, at half past two o'clock at the First Baptist Church. The Rev. LaVerne Hacker, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, Monett, cousin of the bride, performed the impressive double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Vedder, 1106 West Fourth. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Noel, Joplin.

The organist, Mrs. Clyde Williams, Sedalia, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mr. Dave Thomas, St. Joseph, who sang, "Tenderly," "All the Way" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Helen Henry, cousin of the bride, Jacksonville, Ill., and Miss Sandra Sullivan, cousin of the bride, Springfield, lighted the candles. They wore yellow lace over taffeta dresses fashioned with scooped necklines, elbow length sleeves and flared skirts. Their wrist corsages were of white carnations.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her princess line wedding gown was fashioned of chalk white peau de soie and hand clipped Chantilly lace. The lace bodice was styled with a Sabrina neckline and long tapering sleeves. A high empire line was defined by a band of taffeta curving to the waist in back and finished with a flat bow. Seed pearls were used to embroider the flower pattern of lace at the yoke and neckline. The floor length flaring skirt of silk had a spreading back panel of lace under inverted pleats which formed the chapel train. Her headpiece was a half pillbox of matching lace and peau de soie outlined with iridescent sequins and pearls which held her fingertip double illusion.

Complementing the wedding gown, the dresses of the bridesmaids followed the princess line and were in ballerina length. Miss Sharon Vedder, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Her dress was of champagne colored taffeta. An overblouse of lace was styled with a Sabrina neckline, bracelet sleeves and was worn with short lace mitts. Her headpiece was a bow bandeau of matching taffeta and she carried a cascade bouquet of maise carnations and ivy strands.

The dresses of the bridesmaids were identically styled in flower colors. Miss Martha Beck was in hyacinth blue, Mrs. Gene Holt wore orchid, Mrs. Elmer Kramer in petal pink and the gown of Miss Linda Vedder, sister of the bride, was leaf green. They wore bandeaux in matching colors and their flowers were cascade bouquets which matched their dresses fashioned after the maid of honor's.

Mr. Boyd Cates, Jacksonville, Ark., served the groom as best man. Mr. Bob Vedder, brother of the bride, Mr. Gordon Stahl, Culom, Ill., Mr. Allen Burline, Warrensburg, and Mr. Gene Holt, Gallatin, were ushers.

The bride's mother chose a brown and white daron and cotton dress with white accessories and a yellow cymbidium orchid. The groom's mother wore a green silk dress with beige accessories and a green cymbidium orchid.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church dining room. The bride's table was covered with a hand made lace table cloth over yellow taffeta and centered with a four tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Ed Ballenger, aunt of the bride, Springfield, Ill., Mrs. Wayne Henry, aunt of the bride, Jacksonville, Ill., and Mrs. Carl Noel, aunt of the groom, Carthage, served at the bride's table. Mrs. Boyd Cates, Jacksonville, Ark., had charge of the guest book.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to Kentucky. For traveling, the bride chose a white daron pleated dress with green and white accessories and a white rose corsage.

They will make their home in Litchfield, Ill. at 604 A North State Street.

The bride is a graduate of Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg, where she was a member of Delta Zeta sorority and Alpha Phi Delta, honorary sorority. She holds a BME degree. The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a wedding gown of Chantilly lace and silk organdy. The fitted bodice was designed with long sleeves and a wide scoop neck. Flower appliques of lace bordered the neckline and accented the skirt. The empire influence was indicated by a narrow band of organdy which encircled the high waist, finishing with a bow and wide streamers. The bouffant skirt of silk had a wide princess panel of lace and was gathered at the sides and back. It curved to an aisle wide chapel train. The bridal head-dress was a crown of matching lace and silk organdy outlined with pearls and held her shoulder illusion veil. Her flowers were fugi mums.

The maid of honor, Miss Gloria Robb, 1521 East Fourth, wore a green organdy over matching polished cotton with full three-quarter length sleeves, a scoop neckline and a full skirt. She wore a matching organdy picture hat.

Miss Rita Geiser, 2100 East 16th, dressed in blue and Miss Margie Schmidt, Ferguson, dressed in orchid, were bridesmaids. The only living one of the original attendants at their wedding, was present for the celebration.

They have spent most of their married life in Pettis County, on their farm for a number of years, moving to Sedalia in 1932. Mr. Parkhurst has been employed as a sales representative with Stanley Home Products Inc. for the past 21 years, retiring in January of this year.

They are the parents of four children, Raymond Parkhurst of Omaha, Neb., Mrs. Leo Taylor, Denver, Colo., Garnett Parkhurst, Fremont, Neb., and Mrs. Jack Meyers, Jefferson City. They also have four grandchildren, who were all present for the occasion.

The home was decorated with beautiful plants and cut flowers from friends and relatives.

Mrs. Parkhurst wore a powder blue mesh dress with a yellow rose corsage and with Mr. Parkhurst standing in the living room greeted their guests and received congratulations from approximately 160 friends and relatives.

The guests were then ushered to the dining room where the serving table covered with a lace cloth held a large 4 tier cake with gold colored roses and white bells and topped with a large 50 in gold.

Refreshments were served. Mrs. Gerald King assisted the family with the serving.

The honored couple received many lovely golden wedding gifts and cards which were displayed on a lace covered gift table decorated with a hand engraved family book plaque.

Those attending the meeting are: Howard D. Keele, John Handley and Robert Nichols of Sedalia; Elmer Harden of Lexington; James Denny of Sedalia; Lawrence Brown of Sedalia; Robert Harrison of Marshall; Donald Olds and Max Courdin of Warrensburg; and Gary Senter and Donald Greenwell of Clinton.

These men had exceptional sales and service records last year and are among the top-ranking members of Metropolitan's staff of almost 30,000 field representatives in the United States and Canada.

Plans were made for distribution of fact sheets and petition forms to offices of all doctors and dentists. The committee discussed the need of having signed petitions completed and returned to the chairman by June 27, or earlier if possible.

Mrs. Gertrude Berlin, County Nurse, reported she is working with 31 tuberculosis cases and contacts in Sedalia; 18 in the County — a total of 49 tuberculosis patients and contacts; 30 venereal disease cases in Sedalia; and four cases of paralytic polio which she visits regularly.

Fifty-two office calls have been made during the past month in which public health nursing services were involved.

Mr. P. F. Rector, Health Education Consultant, and Mrs. Eva Moen, Health Educator, Division of Health, attended the meeting. Both are working with the Advisory committee.

Bob Hope Is Decelerating And Likes It

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This doesn't sound like old Bob Hope. "I'll do two TV shows in September. I won't have to do another TV show until December, when I do my Christmas trip, and my next picture won't start until 1961. So I'll have two whole months in which to do nothing. Man, it's wonderful."

Bob Hope doing nothing for two months is something all of us thought we'd never see. But it's part of the new pattern of life for the one time busiest boy in show business. Only the threat to his health could make him slow down.

Slow down? That's a relative term for Hope. His present pace of deceleration includes eight TV specials a year, a movie, a few personal appearance tours, various benefits, as well as tending to his far-flung business enterprises.

Hope is making his first film since a blood clot in his left eye threw a scare into him.

"I feel very good," he said between scenes.

Bob's new way of life has given him an opportunity to get reacquainted with his family.

"Linda amazes me, she's so smart," he said fondly. "By going to summer schools, she will graduate from college in three years. And with highest honors! She'll get out this summer and enroll in med school at U.S.C. this fall. She's going to be a doctor."

"Tony is coming along fine. He'll be a junior in college next year. Today he started a summer job in a brokerage firm. I'd like to see him get some background in law and then get into show business."

"Nora is 14 and a perfect doll. Kelly is 13 and he's our problem child. I've been getting reports about him at school, and I've told him he's got to straighten around."

Doomed Slayer Breaks 35-Day Hunger Strike

LANSING, Kan. (AP)—Perry Edward Smith, under death sentence as one of the slayers of a Kansas farm family, has broken a 35-day hunger strike by drinking an egg and milk beverage and a malted milk.

The 31-year-old inmate of the state prison vowed May 24 that he would cheat the hangman's noose by starvation.

Although Smith sipped the specially-prepared beverage, he still refuses to take water or any food from regular meal trays brought to his cell. He also is continuing his silence, refusing to talk to anyone.

Warden Tracy A. Hand said Smith refuses to say whether he plans to end his hunger strike permanently. The prisoner drank the beverages Wednesday by letting an attendant hold the glasses to his lips.

Hospital attendants recently have been tending Smith by forcing a solution through the nose and into the stomach.

Smith entered the prison in May, weighing 163 pounds. Hospital officials estimate he has lost about 30 pounds during the hunger strike.

Smith and Richard Eugene Hickock, 28, were convicted March 29 of shooting and stabbing Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Clutter and their two children at the Clutter home near Garden City.

Smith and Hickock were sentenced to hang. The executions have been delayed pending the outcome of appeals to the Kansas Supreme court.

Registration Certificates To Boat Owners

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Clerks in the Department of Revenue sweated over a big mailing job Thursday — sending registration certificates to some 12,000 to 14,000 power boat owners.

Theoretically, local law enforcement officers can start arresting owners of boats Friday if they don't have a registration number of their craft, and have the required safety equipment aboard.

And Milton Carpenter, director of revenue and chairman of the state Boating Commission, is pondering meanwhile where all the other boat owners are. Earlier estimates by the U.S. Coast Guard placed the probable number of Missouri boats at 10 or more horsepower at around 75,000.

Only the 10-horsepower-plus boats come under the new boat registration act.

Local officers, state patrol troopers and agents of the Conservation Commission can nab boat operators if the boats aren't registered, if safety equipment isn't aboard or if the operators are plying their craft in reckless fashion.

In any case, it would be unwise for a boat owner to push into the waters of a neighboring state. Arkansas officers started enforcing that states' boating law last April but agreed to be reasonable with Missouri boats until July 1.

Missouri's Boating Commission had difficulty getting the registration act into operation on time.
